Marksist Tutum

It approved its new programme and came to important conclusions concerning the causes of the overthrow of socialism, enriching its perception of socialism. Most unions have surrendered the achievements of the mid-twentieth century, when the working class was a militant force for change throughout the world.

Report on the class struggle (2015)

It adopts, in essence, every kind of slanderous simplification of complex problems, such as the sharpening of the class struggle in the USSR.

The Ruling Class Does Not Rule

The Present Period The present period is characterised, as already mentioned, by the longest and largest structural crisis in the history of capitalism.

America is in a class war, not a race war

The Communist Manifesto So if on the one hand technological development leads to the fall in the rate of profit, creating problems in the process of capital valorisation, which are the basis of the perennial crisis in which we live, on the other hand it has as a direct consequence the intensification of exploitation, the poisoning of the world, deforestation, pollution, environmental devastation of land and seas e. There seemed to be a general sense that, for all the difficulties facing labor, which no one was inclined to underestimate, there was both new hope and new energy in the movement, and a new foundation on which to build. We have the power in our hands and tested this again with the pandemic.

The 'Third Camp' in France. Workers' Liberty #2/2, March 2002.

People have pointed out that the vast majority of production still goes on in nationally based companies in single locales.

Slavoj Žižek: We Need a Socialist Reset, Not a Corporate “Great Reset”

Yet if the ruling class or a segment of it is class-conscious, then the degree of autonomy of the state is clearly quite limited. The proclamation of the International or its initial nucleus on the basis of little more than the existence of propagandist groups would not be a step forward for the revolutionary movement. I discussed with those of them with whom one could discuss, and they thought that the revolution in France - in Europe, more generally - would happen thanks to the Red Army, without reference to the masses of the people.

Rosa Luxemburg: Women's Suffrage and Class Struggle (1912)

It must elaborate the structural constraints that operate to reduce the likelihood that state managers will act against the general interests of capitalists. Anarchists seek to change the world for the better, this pamphlet points us in the direction of some of the tools we need for that task.

A step forward on the working class' international day of unity, struggle and solidarity!

Rather, that leadership and its organisational form the International is the most important weapon that the revolutionary working class has. My own conclusion is a different one, because I start from different premises. If you find yourself in substantial agreement with us, please consider.
