Parental involvement in schools

An item from the 2005 Botswana GSHS was included to assess peer support, a variable not measured in the Kenyan study. We have betrayed this child. It was clear that the similar acronyms HIV and HSV-2 were a potential source of confusion.

Physical education, school physical activity, school sports and academic performance

In: SAS and all other SAS Institute Inc.

Prevalence and predictors of alcohol and drug use among secondary school students in Botswana: a cross

Data from the Youth Risk Behavior Survey likewise showed that a perception of little or no involvement in PA was associated with a perception of low academic performance.

Involving parents from the start: Formative evaluation for a large RCT with Botswana Junior Secondary School students

Some expressed benefits in terms of building a healthy nation.

Physical education, school physical activity, school sports and academic performance

If so, is this a consequence of PF per se, or of better overall physical health? There may also be some limitations to the generalizability of our findings. Composite and subcomponent scores were then created from the standardized items. But setting up online schools wouldn't be easy and, according to research, moving from the actual classroom to a virtual classroom can hurt student performance.

The extent of child sexual abuse in Botswana: hidden in plain sight

Facilitators sought suggestions for making any part of the trial more acceptable to parents.

Parental involvement in schools

Parents indicated that they would encourage their own children to be part of the study and indicated that the sole condition for its acceptability among other parents in Botswana was clear education and information about the trial.

Online schools: Student performance often falls behind regular schools

With regard to protective factors, particularly notable are the effects of low individual controls protection and low social controls protection.
