437 U.S. 153

The corridor will extend from the common boundary between TVA and the adjacent landowner to the water-use facility.

437 U.S. 153

After being asked to leave the premises, the North Pole-based environmental group proceeded outside to sing anti-coal carols and hand out information sheets.

437 U.S. 153

Said lease shall also provide that if the said lessee does not desire to buy power of the publicly owned plant it shall have the right to purchase power for the operation of said plant of the Alabama Power Company or any other publicly or privately owned corporation engaged in the generation and sale of electrical power, and in such case the lease shall provide further that the said lessee shall have a free right of way to build a transmission line over Government property to said plant paying the actual expenses and damages, if any, incurred by the Corporation on account of such line.

How a bill becomes a law

Respondents dispute this figure, and point to a recent study by the General Accounting Office, which suggests that the figure could be considerably less. On July 26, 2010, a federal appeals court reversed a judge's ruling in requiring prompt installation of upgraded emission controls at four TVA coal-fired power plants, three in Tennessee and one in Alabama.
