Chapter 3: Local Government re

In the Western Area, thuggery in the West One constituency led to the cancellation of the elections.

Chapter 3: Local Government re

The Provincial Land Act of 1906 gave certain advantages and privileges to the Protectorate people by reason of their place of birth or origin, which were not extended to other Sierra Leoneans. Civil society was largely bereft of a flagship issue with which to engage passionately between 1961 and 1964. This significantly reduced the number of Scottish local councils down from 425 to a more manageable 12 Regions and Island Areas and 53 Districts within a 2-tier structure.
