Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker, sometime Brevet Lieutenant

As concerned this question of age, she was like a man, and so in fact she was in some other ways. At last I got his head under my arm with a grip on his gullet, and so mauled him with my right fist that Friend Forest pulled me away, and my man staggered back, bloody, and white too, while I was held like a dog in leash. We believe this work is culturally important, and despite the imperfections, have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide.
