Pioneer in Female Ministry

The Jamaica Teachers' Association JTA differs from most of the other unions because this is where woman power is in evidence at committee levels and at the highest rung of leadership. But, you see, we are made in the image of God and as such we are made to work—to create, to shape, to bring order out of disorder.

Where are the women?

Kavan Gayle, president-general of the Bustamante Industrial Trade Union, said global union partners that appear to be troubled by this imbalance are encouraging them to set up women's committees within the trade union movement to deal with women's issues and also to have it entrenched in their constitutions that women sit at leadership levels within the organisations.

from The Woman's Labor. An Epistle to Mr Stephen...

With the noticeable absence of women from leadership roles within the trade union movement, could a main factor be that they are not usually encouraged to apply for or even considered for the top job when there is a vacancy? Even though women were there marching with the men to gain recognition and union power, somehow this female talent pool became invisible and faded into obscurity.

Where are the women?

The sociologist and university lecturer agreed that unions like the JTA and the nurses' association, which are female-dominated, will continue to take women seriously and embrace female leadership. Reprinted with the permission of Prison Fellowship Ministries.
