Yugawara Onsen (Yugawara)

When the Hōjō refused to submit, Hideyoshi and Ieyasu mobilized a great army and navy that blockaded the Hōjō forces in their seaside castle at Odawara. In 1570 this expansion led him to move his headquarters eastward to , a small coastal town that he developed into the commercial and strategic centre of a thriving domain. In the late 1550s he took a wife, fathered the first of several sons, and began to acquire military experience by leading forces on behalf of Imagawa Yoshimoto, the clan leader.
