About: Birmingham Heartlands Development Corporation

Michael Heseltine Secretary of State for the Environment 11th March 1992 Explanatory Note This note is not part of the Order The Birmingham Heartlands Development Corporation is established by the Birmingham Heartlands Development Corporation Area and Constitution Order 1992 for the purpose of regenerating the Birmingham Heartlands urban development area. This was clearly one of the reasons why there was little commitment in central government to funding a consortium of local authorities on a sufficient scale to begin to tackle the massive programme of land assembly, reclamation and infrastructure investment.

StarCity

The £50 million station will be a great boost to Heartlands, which is set to become an urban development corporation in May this year. The funds were used in the construction of the Heartlands spine road on the , which was completed in 1997.

Organisations

Its centrepiece is the 25-screen Vue cinema, which was the largest cinema in Europe when it was opened. Birmingham City Council provided to councillors to be board members whilst the other members were from three local development companies and two nationally based development companies.

StarCity

Some centres specialise in different services, including the independent retail shops in Moseley and restaurants in the 'Balti Triangle' in the Sparkhill and Ladypool Road Centres. Urban History 32 , pp. In the initial phases the services would have been heavy rail mostly along existing alignments.

Anyone remember the Birmingham Heartlands station proposal?

More fundamentally, the LDDC has assisted in the investment of new and better schools as part of this long-term aim.

Nechells

. She worked for AstraZeneca in the UK as their Medical and Healthcare Affairs Director until December 2014. It will be important that this growth is supported by high quality and affordable homes that integrate with communities, help reduce overcrowding and provide access to services and jobs.

Bordesley Green

The historic character of the City can still be seen today, with nationally renowned assets in the Jewellery Quarter and Bournville.
