There are two Cobden Streets in Burnley, Lancashire. This was the most powerful argument with which he had plied the emperor and the members of the French government, and which he had found most efficacious with them. Fourth, it would introduce through mutually advantageous international trade a new era of international fellowship and peace.

He went to Paris on 18 Oct.

The Life of Richard Cobden: Volume 1 by John Morley

He supported the measure for removing Jewish disabilities, and he denounced the 1851 as an intolerant and insulting measure. He was keenly interested in what was then the comparatively obscure field of national education, and he took an active part in the municipal work of Manchester, which had received its charter of incorporation in 1838.
