Outside, there was the palpable sense that the bottom was about to fall out. Or could you tell me with certainty that more high schools put on a play every year rather than a musical? So obviously, a new FTP would just send them money to pay theatremakers to get back to work, right? As Reiner pointed out, recommendations will vary, though every person I spoke to echoed a similar aim: All would like to see a reinvigoration and rededication of theatres to the local communities they serve.

Shakespeare's Theater

The trap room allows the stage floor to be leveled, extra electrical equipment to be attached, and most importantly, the placement of trap doors onto the stage hence the name.

'Molly Sweeney' Review: Looking at Theater Anew

From curtain up to curtain down, it was a brilliant performance—the actors all at the top of their games, their voices and bodies strong, their spirits high.
