Cork estates of Richard Boyle, 4th Earl of Cork, 1733 - 1735. The Lismore Castle Papers now in the National Library contain extensive documentation relating to the Earl of Cork's Irish estates in the first half of the 18th century. Wires can be soldered to the motor before mounting it in the base.

Orrery

It is on display in the and visitors may view it there during public opening hours. Had I no Business in Ireland the sight of you would more than make Amends for a Sea Sickness. But the earth also makes one revolution which is added to the rotation of the moon.

Estate Record: Boyle (Earl of Cork and Orrery)

B: Earth and the Solar System. The gear used is one of the 2 gears with a slot in stead of a dot.
