History of Antarctica

We find that the eastern scarp of the Mozambique ridge aligns with the Astrid ridge, and there is no room for Madagascar west of the Gunnerus ridge. A suitable cover story was the need to deny use of the area to the enemy. Our preliminary models suggest that there may be a link between the prominent step in the flank of the later Cretaceous-Cenozoic West Antarctic Rift System at the southern end of Ellsworth-Whitmore Block and the earlier Jurassic Weddell Sea rift system.

The results of the modeling indicate that the postglacial 13,000 to 8000 14C yr B. While this results does confirm the important role of natural variability, it also suggests a strong bias in the forced response.

The Antarctic Sun: News about Antarctica

At Milankovich time scales, we show that the precessionnal component of insolation at high and low latitudes explains the major trend of the glacier-sea ice-ocean system throughout the Holocene, in the Adélie Land region. Representative strains were identified by sequence analysis of 16S rRNA genes. Bellingshausen and Lazarev became the first explorers to see and officially discover the land of the continent of Antarctica.

Although there is increasing evidence that WAIS discharge has varied on centennial to multi-millennial timescales since the last glacial period much less is known about its most recent late Holocene behavior.
