Introduction to SharePoint information architecture

Even if you set up a certain flow, not everyone will land on a page and convert in seconds.

The Design Dimension of Planning: Theory, content and best practice for design policies

It makes a case for linking knowledge and content to the development of human powers or capabilities needed for the 21st century and unpacks the challenges for curriculum policy, curriculum planning and classroom teaching. It's not just display size that can be a challenge.

Introduction to SharePoint information architecture

Reinforce actions with familiarity If your message is the same, your CTA should be the same on every single page.

Start each paragraph with new information, so if someone is scrolling they can quickly tell if they need to read that paragraph. The children of today will face many things that have not yet been invented or discovered, sometimes beyond expectations. Since we know that most readers do not read every word on a web page or even scroll to the bottom, you need to pay attention to how you present information on each page.
