Massif Central

The value of the memoir is assessed against the background of the previous work on the area.

George Julius Poulett Scrope

As an undergraduate he developed a lifelong fascination with volcanos, inspired by visits to Vesuvius and Etna. The chalk forms the back wall with the outer headlands of Portland Stone Jurassic limestones steeply inclined inland. Despite this handicap, Topley produced a masterly memoir, notable especially for the breadth of his treatment of so many aspects of Wealden geology.

Memoirs of Geology

Most have soft and rounded reliefs, because they were formed with fluid lava that spread instead of building up.

Geology of Giant Petroleum Fields

These they knitted together, creating a historical panorama of the geological events that shaped the Earth. It spreads over 389,733 hectares over 120 km in the departments of Cantal and Puy-de-Dôme.
