Corporate Strategic Plan

This agreement contractually binds the owner to develop and maintain a site in accordance with the approved plans and the terms of the agreement. The process is handled by the Committee of Adjustment. It recommends uniform standards of zoning by-laws, subdivision controls, engineering standards, building codes and housing standards that would be governed by established planning policies and principles and the development of an urban renewal programme.

Land Division

The Plan is designed to ensure that the future growth of the City occurs in a logical and sustainable manner.

Welcome

Marie area, including a Queen Street mall and projections for a rapidly growing community that never quite achieved expectations. It envisions a city of about 111,000 people with 30,000 dwelling units, 10,000 acres of residential land and a central business district of 29 acres designed to accommodate 5,000 cars. It says this conservation would be best achieved by a combination of active, co-operative citizens and provision and enforcement of building standards.

Such exemptions do not include exemption from any rezoning, official plan, or committee of adjustment applications that may result as part of the application. For more information, contact Rachel Tyczinski, City Clerk, at 705-759-5391 or email. This will require various reports identifying all common elements and outlining any repairs or replacements that may be required in the foreseeable future, as well as projected costs.

Site Plan Control

The plan stresses the importance of conserving sound, stable neighbourhoods that might be vulnerable to the causes of blight.

Official Plan

Plans of Subdivision Where the extension of a public road, water or sewer main is required, or the number of lots proposed is such that the proper orderly development of the area necessitates a more comprehensive review than that of the Consent to Sever process, lands must be divided through a Plan of Subdivision. Such reports must be prepared by a professional who is qualified to assess the respective common elements.
