Vernacular Building in Ayrshire .. John R. Hume 9780954225322

On the first occasion he is an apprentice architect, but in the intervening years obviously underwent a career change, for in 1911 he is a medical student. Buildings in cold climates invariably have high thermal mass or significant amounts of insulation. Related to their environmental contexts and available resources they are customarily owner- or community-built, utilizing traditional technologies.

Vernacular architecture

Along with him, modern proponents of the use of the vernacular in architectural design include Charles Correa, a well known Indian architect; Muzharul Islam and Bashirul Haq, internationally known Bangladeshi architects; Balkrishna Doshi, another Indian, who established the Vastu-Shilpa Foundation in Ahmedabad to research the vernacular architecture of the region; and Sheila Sri Prakash who has used rural Indian architecture as an inspiration for innovations in environmental and socio-economically sustainable design and planning. By contrast, in Western Europe, such separation is accomplished inside one dwelling, by dividing the building into separate rooms. His door, window, roof and fireplace designs were very distinct because of his use of curved lines.
