History of education in England

The Forty-Second Amendment to the Constitution included education in the Concurrent List under Entry 25.

State school

Clause 18, however, was held not to suffer from the same vice as Clause 17 because the provision, insofar as it was applicable to the minority institutions, empowered the University to prescribe by-regulations governing the service and conduct of teachers, and that this was in the larger interest of the institutions, and in order to ensure their efficiency and excellence.

State school

This would for the first time since 1972, when compulsory education was extended to sixteen.

T.M.A.Pai Foundation & Ors vs State Of Karnataka & Ors on 31 October, 2002

A report of 1938 of a committee chaired by , a former Vice-Chancellor of the , recommended that entry to schools would be based on intelligence testing. Regulations can be framed governing service conditions for teaching and other staff for whom aid is provided by the state, without interfering with the overall administrative control of the management over the staff.
