Exceptional views of the football pitch , toddler's play area, tennis courts and crazy golf course. . I have done the index search and now will apply for a copy of Sarah's birth record and her parents marrige record and see if it can shed any more light on her parents and location.

Dolphinwatch, Carrigaholt, Loop Head Peninsula, Co. Clare, Ireland, Wild Atlantic Way

The area is famous for dolphin watching, fishing, walking treks, cycling routes, seafood, and of course the pint of Guinness! While history and archaeology are the predominant subjects covered in the journals there are also articles on place names, historical geography, folklore and folklife, numismatics, architecture and other kindred studies. Not the case it would seem. This cottage townhouse sleeps five people and has two bedrooms, consisting of two double bedrooms, one with an en-suite shower room.

West Street, Carrigaholt, Co. Clare

Lands at West Street, Carrigaholt, Co. TV is the last thing on my own mind when I get to the seaside but my only issue here is that on the page for Sea View Cottage it claims to have a DVD player in the house, but this proved not to be the case. In Ireland, your navigation system is likely to take you as the crow flies! The sights are breathtaking and there are some top class restaurants and amenities nearby.
