The 10 greatest works of art ever

This relies on the fact that a number of radioactive isotopes like uranium are known to decay into daughter products at a known constant rate. Thus this list of the by our ancestors like Homo erectus, Homo heidelbergensis, Homo neanderthalensis, and Homo sapiens sapiens - should be seen merely as a snapshot of an ongoing process of discovery.

The Art World

It's like art matters more here, and not fancy flash-in-the-pan trendiness. NOTE: One miraculous discovery occurred in 1890, in a peat bog near Sverdlovsk in the Urals, where archeologists found the 7,500 BCE , the oldest surviving example of wood carving. And James Joyce, that profound naturalist of life's epiphanic moments, specialised in observing how the ecstatic intrudes — sometimes painfully — into the everyday.
