Gifted Programs

NAGC and the Council of State Directors of Programs for the Gifted CSDPG conduct a biennial survey of how states regulate and support programs for advanced students called State of the States in Gifted Education. Highly Capable Program Services are different at various grades; the continuum of services is fluid and responsive to student needs as well as district capacity.

REACH Gifted Program / REACH Gifted Program

In addition, many states have organizations affiliated with NAGC that work on state-specific initiatives and training. There are two federal reports that are often cited when discussing gifted education: 1983 and 1993.

Why Are Gifted Programs Needed?

Highly Capable Program Descriptions The Issaquah School District offers a continuum of program services for highly capable students in grades K-12.
