THAILAND AND BURMA 1942

We will be collecting data, film footage, documents, photographs and other material from a wide range of sources in the UK, the USA, Hong Kong, China and Japan to compile the most complete record of the incident ever produced. Kundasang war memorial contains two gardens dedicated to the British and Australians, as well as a roll of honour. This includes those who were commanded directly by Japanese officers, such as some Anti-Aircraft and Motor Transport personnel, as well as those commanded by Indian officers, such as the Changi Guard who were used to guard British and Australian prisoners.

Jack Chalker's book Burma Railway

From a British perspective the Changi Guard represents one of the most notorious episodes involving Indian troops, not least because the Guard was used to execute British and Australian prisoners on at least one occasion. He was immediately bayoneted and killed; he was 27 years old.

American POWs of Japan: Books of the Thai

In 1995 an exhibition of the works of the four artists was held at the under the title 'The Major Collection'. I have gone through life without a father. He did not join a FEPOW club.
