KATHERINE ANNE PORTER: A CRITICAL SYMPOSIUM, By Lodwick Hartley & George Core VG

The autobiographies of Richard Wright and Alfred Kazin, taken as prime twentieth-century American expressions of racial and ethnic identity, reveal striking similarities to their Enlightenment counterparts in Europe, the black Olaude Equiano and the Jewish Salomon Maimon. Cash Drawing on excerpts from numerous letters and material from interviews with family members and friends, Larry Brown: A Writer's Life is the first biography of a landmark southern writer.

Lodwick Charles Hartley Papers, 1922

Warring Fictions accuses American critics of twenty years of whitewash and reminds us that Vietnam was not just an American anguish and its fiction a rock-and-roll acid trip. The photographs are paired to contrast and complement, to surprise and suggest, and to please and provoke.

Welty Symposium

Stuart Chapman For a biographer Shelby Foote is a famously reluctant subject. Those connections often brought out the best in people under the worst of circumstances.

Welty Symposium

Mississippi University for Women is proud to honor the exceptional work of the University Press of Mississippi and to promote scholarship in the fields of Women's Studies, Southern Studies, and Literature through this prize in honor of its most famous alumna, Eudora Welty. She maintained, though, that a germ of her own experience lay at the core of everything she wrote. Lodwick Hartley, a native of Batesburg, South Carolina, was educated at Furman, Columbia University and Princeton.
