ACI 423.3R : 2017 RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CONCRETE MEMBERS PRESTRESSED

A key goal of ACI 562-19 was to provide the repair community with a code that established minimum practices for assessment of existing structures and the design of repairs that ensure life safety, but which is also durable within the desired service life of the repaired structure. ACI 318-19 is also included in the online subscription to the ACI Collection of Concrete Codes, Specifications, and Practices. Based on information provided at registration country, job function, industry, etc.

There exists a significant risk of collapse, detachment or dislodgement of any portion, member, appurtenance, or ornamentation of the concrete building or structure under service loads. Evaluation requirements for concrete made with self-consolidating concrete and structures that are designed for modulus of elasticity are included in the updated ACI 301-20.
