While it is important that the background material provide a 360-degree analysis of the problem at hand, it is equally important that the background material not provide solutions. Whilst Chapter 11 will remain a popular tool for cross-border restructurings, and certain European companies may choose to use new restructuring tools available in their jurisdictions of incorporation, the appeal of the English jurisdiction as a forum to restructure a business is now greater than ever. What type of mandated disclosure will help solve that problem? I organize my actions in my personal life around this and other beliefs.
