Gersonides does not follow the majority opinion on this issue: rather than claim that God does know particulars and that this knowledge somehow does not affect human freedom, Gersonides argues that God knows particulars only in a certain sense.

Sharon Portnoff, Not in Our Stars

They are ordered in a rational system that governs the sublunar domain. Books 2 to 4 focus on the relation between God and the world. As scholars have rediscovered his thought and have made his corpus available to a modern audience, Gersonides is once again appreciated as an insightful, ruthlessly consistent philosopher.
