

Old Assyrian institutions

Nederlands Instituut voor het Nabije Oosten - The Powerful Assyrians, Rulers of Empires

Description: -

-
Teagarden, Jack, -- 1905-1964.
Assyria -- Antiquities.
Kanesh (Extinct city)
Ashur (Extinct city)Old Assyrian institutions

-
American culture series -- 434.12.
Uitgaven van het Nederlands Instituut voor het Nabije Oosten te
Leiden -- 98
MOS studies -- 4Old Assyrian institutions
Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. [xv]-xxiii) and indexes.
This edition was published in 2004

Filesize: 36.67 MB

Tags: #The #Powerful #Assyrians, #Rulers #of #Empires

The Powerful Assyrians, Rulers of Empires

Two Assyrian kings ruling between c.

Old Assyrian period

It was situated between the Euphrates and Tigris Rivers, and its major cities were Calah, Zab, Ashur, and the capital, Nineveh.

The Old Assyrian Period

The young men settled around Clark and Huron, near familiar to them. Shamshi-Adad I put his second son, on the throne in Mari, and then returned to Shubat-Enlil. His name also appears as Umakishtar and Huyakhshtara.

The 3,000

Ashur was Assyria's chief god, but the gods of the Babylonians and Hittites , ancient people of Asia Minor and Syria, who flourished from 1600 to 1200 B.

Related Books

- Contextual factors that enable or disable nurses professional practice
- Fon Shiihoruto no musume
- Behind harem walls.
- Rats aussi ont de beaux yeux.
- População, família, sociedade - Portugal, séculos XIX-XX