It contains regional geographic delineations for analysis of ecological relationships across ecological parent dataset: Ecological Sections by Climate 7MB 13MB Date of last refresh: May 4, 2017 The Climate Sections feature class contains ecological section polygons attributed with climate information to show the relationships between ECOMAP 2007 and various climate data from the PRISM climate mapping system. It is important to note that this layer may not contain all CWK1 or CWK2 accomplished activities; the spatial portion of the activity description is not currently enforced by FACTS and at this time some are optionally reported by Forest Service units. Five management themes have been established and are identified in the MgmtClassification attribute that provide prohibitions, with exceptions or conditioned permissions, governing timber cutting, removing and selling, road construction and reconstruction, and certain mineral activities.

Millions of visitors come to the Black Hills each year to experience the rich and diverse heritage. Visitors to the forest can harvest special forest products in reasonable amounts for personal use without a permit, such as collecting firewood for use at a campsite. Harvesting more than small amounts requires a permit, and in some cases may require a contract.

That fall, Pinchot toured the Black Hills, and in a history making November 3 meeting, convinced Homestake Mining Company officials they should side with him in his quest to bring science-based management to the reserves. It also establishes policy and direction for these resources, enabling the BLM to more effectively manage and regulate the harvest of SFP, thus protecting the resources and reducing possible environmental impacts. It is important to note that this layer does not contain all of the approved project activities.

Forest Action Plans

Enjoy yourself while viewing the many rugged rock formations, canyons and gulches, open grassland parks, tumbling streams, and deep blue lakes. Each feature represents a segment of road where the attributes are the same.
