The first compilation was issued in 1924 in mimeographed form. The other lists were issued as U.S. Office of Education Circular no. 2, 111, 139 and Bulletin, 1931, no. 4. cf. p.1.
This edition was published in 1938

ERIC

See Staff of Social Sciences 1 at the College of the University of Chicago, eds. Courses in this category focus on the consideration of past events and ideas relative to the United States, with the option of including Texas history for a portion of this component area. A difference in atmosphere between the two departments may explain why at UT even faculty members without specified RCG interests assigned RCG-themed textbooks and supplementary readings.

The Cultural History of Mankind?

What does it accomplish for you? Golden, Berquist, and Colemen point to four prominent trends in theory during the Enlightenment.

IV. The “New Curriculum” and the Post WWII Era

In 1970 and 1984 Frank Dance looked at 126 published definitions of communication in our literature and said that the task of trying to develop a single definition of communication that everyone likes is like trying to nail jello to a wall. Is the laughter verbal or nonverbal communication? The exchange of ideas is held to be the path to the realization of the potentialities of the race. Students learn to analyze evidence from the past in context in order to explain how the past produced the ever-changing present.

IV. The “New Curriculum” and the Post WWII Era

Emphasis on major groups nobles, upper clergy, peasants, townspeople -boundaries of their lives and changes in response to economic and political developments. It carried the provocative title Was America a mistake? The subject of our study is one of the most fascinating places one can learn about.

The Cultural History of Mankind?

Topics include: reform movements, industrialization, urbanization, the economy, the homefront, consumer culture, suburbanization, liberation movements, and deindustrialization.
