resources and their habitat. The project will protect waterfowl breeding and stopover habitat and provide public opportunities for wildlife-dependent outdoor recreation, including hunting, fishing and wildlife observation and photography, in the urban St.

North American Wetlands Conservation Act Grants

Sportsmen and women are often part of this non-federal match, making this a partnership that benefits habitat conservation and our great outdoors traditions.

More information about their mission, local partnerships and funding opportunities is on their website. Grant proposals are recommended for approval by the Council to the Migratory Bird Conservation Commission Commission.

North American Wetlands Conservation Fund

Arkansas has 12 multi-state projects underway, and the 294,710 acres covered are in the best condition than they have ever been. NAWCA grants conserve bird populations and wetland habitat while supporting local economies and American traditions such as hunting, fishing, birdwatching, family farming and cattle ranching.
