Henrietta Lacks' 'Immortal' Cells

And thou fly without any wings, and conquer without any sword. The underbelly is white with some mottling possible and the skin over the shoulders is gray. If the hedgehog has cheek patches, then the hedgehog in question is in the Algerian colour range.

Colour Requirements

In the American west, the Pinto has traditionally been regarded as a horse the American Indian favored as a war horse since its coloring provided a natural camouflage. In this generic sense, they're often used interchangeably. The face is masked with orange cheek patches.

Pinto Thoroughbreds

CINNAMON Spines are white, banded by light cinnamon brown. Like sabino, the amount of white on the coat can vary, though most dominant white horses tend to be heavily patterned or nearly all white.

The International Hedgehog Association

Go to Hatani Town Humpors Hus or not I will not go away. We've run a complete color panel and pattern tests on Phantasia and she DNA tested homozygous tobiano she'll throw the pinto color pattern every time , heterozygous black she carries a dominant black gene and a recessive red gene , and is negative for everything else. I would love to see photos of Blue Gazi if anyone knows of any! There is some mottling of the underbelly and the face is masked by black.
