An infinitesimal amount of power $B v v$, $T \cos \theta d A d \Omega d v$ is radiated in the direction described by the angle θ from the surface normal from infinitesimal surface area $d A$ into infinitesimal solid angle $d \Omega$ in an infinitesimal frequency band of width $d v$ centered on frequency v .

These energy fields surround us all the time. It is included in the absorption term because, like absorption, it is proportional to the intensity of the incoming radiation. It is evident that even at 1 part per million ppm U in coal, there is more energy in the contained uranium if it were to be used in a fast neutron reactor than in the coal itself.
