Will she undertake to consult and listen to the views of clinicians in Aberdeen about the potential impact of the decision on their ability to recruit and to maintain existing services? Fiona McLeod has been a great example, particularly to first-timers in the Parliament such as me and those who seek to represent a constituency. I have worked on Fairtrade fortnight, which is from 23 February to 13 March, in Parliament and in my constituency during my years in Parliament. But with the compensation, like these awards to people like us with permanent injuries, severe ones like in an alher nerve where the hand is deteriorating and all, every couple of years it shrinks.
